

Gladys H. Dunn

Gladys H. Dunn is a retired educator and servant leader, with over 30 years of experience in education. Throughout her career, Gladys has held various positions within the education profession. A major highlight of her professional career was teaching in the therapeutic preschool for children with emotional and behavioral needs at Edgecombe Nash Mental Health Center.

Gladys attended Fayetteville State University and holds an undergraduate degree from Shaw University in Early Childhood Education.

As servant leader, Gladys served as Assistant Children's Leader in Bible Study Fellowship International for over 25 years. Currently, she is an active board member of Talks Mentoring Eastern Shore Incorporated, a private, non-profit organization whose purpose is to aid and support in the development of young African- American males in Eastern North Carolina. Gladys serves as the board secretary for Talks Mentoring Eastern Shore. She also serves as an active member of the W.A. Pattillo Alumni Association as a member of the Membership Committee.

Gladys is the mother of three adult children and the grandmother of five grandsons. Gladys is a native of Tarboro, North Carolina and currently resides in Tarboro with her husband, Bernard Dunn.